EAST SWEDEN.

Badly Burned.
 Last week, Edward H. Ridlon's wife of the Ridlon neighborhood, while starting a fire in a fireplace, fell, setting her clothes on fire and burning them nearly all off, and her flesh in places very badly. She being there alone with her little girl of two or three years, no one knows just all that happened, but it set the floor on fire which the woman herself put out. We have heard that her recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. D. T. Adams is suffering from the effects of a bad cold.

E. W. Stone has finished hauling wood to North Bridgton, but has some yet to haul to Waterford Flat.

On Tuesday last week, O. H. Haskell with H. O. Saunders to help him out it, started in to get his year's stock of ice, expecting a team to haul it the next day. But the next day the ice was coming from the clouds at a great rate, also covering the ice in the mill pond with a rapidity that was astonishing. The next day (Thursday) in some of the water, with the aid of W. W. Wilson and W. L. Marr's hired man to cut and C. W. and Ernest Bennett with four horses, rubber boots, etc., O. H. got his ice house filled.

Friday of last week, as W. L. Marr, his hired man and Win Farrington went from South Waterford in a punge with a barrel of flour, the outside or till girl to the harness broke when coming down Marr's hill near the Knight road. This let the punge against the horse, pushing him into the ditch, throwing Mr. Marr, who was driving out, and it being so icy he could not keep his footing, he had to let go of the reins. About that time the hired man jumped out. The horse ran down the hill and across the causeway by the A. J. Brown house, up a small hill where the boy, Win Farrington, got out. The horse kept on towards home until she had gone some half mile from the start, where she cleared herself from a snag. Fortunately there was no one injured. The damage was a broken harness, cross bar and thill.

WEST FRYEBURG.

The Stirling Literary Club.
 The Stirling Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Jones, the secretary of the club, Tuesday, Jan. 27. The weather was uncertain and this with the fact that nearly all the horses are being used in the woods, made the attendance smaller than usual. Yet withal, there was a good degree of interest in the exercises of the day and plenty of enthusiasm in regard to the welfare of the club for the future. One of the ladies went in the forenoon, riding on her son's logging sled rather than forego attendance upon the meeting.

In the name of the school I stand With this token in my hand, I present it to you here With best wishes most sincere. Now wear this ring whether you are, While you are here or afar, And may its presence call Of Union school that loves you well.

HARTFORD.

Presented with a Ring.
 At the close of the school, the pupils in the Union district presented their teacher, Merton W. Howard, with an elegant solid gold signet ring on which was engraved the word "Union." Mr. Howard, who is a graduate of Wilton Academy, has taught several terms in this district and it is needless to add the most cordial and friendly feelings exist between him and his scholars, a condition of affairs that insures a profitable term for the school and makes teaching a pleasant task for the teacher. The ring, which will be numbered among his choicest possessions, was presented with the following lines:

In the name of the school I stand With this token in my hand, I present it to you here With best wishes most sincere. Now wear this ring whether you are, While you are here or afar, And may its presence call Of Union school that loves you well.
